

ASOC Student E-Conference

Challenge and Harmony in Asia

November 19 - 20 Saturday, 2021
Friday

Keynote Speakers

Organizing
Committee

Format : Zoom Webinar Host Institute : Kyushu University
Organizer : Kyushu University Institute of Asia-Oceania Studies - Cultural Dynamic Cluster
Target : Undergraduate and graduate students Language : English

The program and registration form are here. <https://forms.gle/iMpopiR3eGCZjeat6>
November 19-20 11:00-18:40 (GMT+9:JST)

What is ASOC ? : ASOC (Asian Studies Online Consortium) is a research and education group organized by East Asian researchers, and exploring new research and education methods using online networks under the COVID-19.

Key theme : Globalization and regionalism have brought major changes to Asian politics, economy, and society. COVID-19 is also promoting such trends. In the midst of this rapid change, confrontations are occurring among the U.S., China, ASEAN, Japan, and other countries, while at the same time, harmony is being achieved through international cooperation and regionalism. In this conference, we hope that young researchers who will be responsible for Asia in the future will look at Asia in the 21st century, analyze its challenges and its harmonies, and explore ways of dialogue.

