

For those who have applied for exemption application before 2017

Procedures and submitted documents were partially changed from the application for exemption in 2018. Since the main change points are described below, please make an application after paying due attention to each person's change points. For each item, please also check the corresponding page of the guidebook.

«For international student»

3. Form was partially changed. (Refer to the guide-book P6 to 9)

【Conventional】

「【Form1】Applicant's Report of Income Status」
「【Form7】Budget report for financially independent person」
Need to submit this form, if the applicant or family living in Japan has annual income of 1,040,000yen or more and also expect to earn more than 1,040,000 yen this year.
「【Form8】Budget report for self-supporting international student」

【After the change】

「【Form 1】Self-supporting international student Budget report」
・ self-supporting international student must submit
※Please make sure that income \geq expenditure !
※If there is a salary income must have proof of income, such as income and withholding tax.

4. The scholarship application target · amount has changed.

【Conventional】

【application target】
All students receiving benefit type scholarships
【application amount】
Amount received during the previous fiscal year of the application year

【After the change】

【application target】
Self-supporting international students who receive benefit-type scholarships
【application amount】
Amount to be received during the application period