"World Cuisine - A Taste of the World in 5 Weeks" comes to Kyushu U cafeteria
International Students bring Cherished Home-Cooked Delights to Kyushu University

Kyushu University is pleased to announce that we are hosting "World Cuisine - A Taste of the World in 5 weeks" at the Big Orange Restaurant on Ito Campus. Dishes from around the world, whose recipes are created by international students, will be served on a weekly basis.

Kyushu University established the Student Committee for Internationalization of Kyushu University (SCIKyu) with the aim of incorporating student perspectives to promote internationalization. This initiative was inspired by the international student members of the committee, who expressed a desire to savor the flavors of their home countries on campus. International students have each contributed their home country's cuisine to the menu of the university cafeteria, which was made possible with the full cooperation of Kyushu University CO-OP.

This restaurant is not only open to university staff, researchers and students, but also to the general public. We invite everyone to come and experience the multicultural culinary delights shared by the international students at Kyushu University, and connect with the world through food.
