Chapter 5 Course Registration and Course Results

Online course registration for undergraduate students is available using the Student Portal System, except for major courses in the Department of Biomedical Science and the Department of Medicine in the School of Medicine.

Registration must be completed within the prescribed period.

Registration for graduate courses is different for each graduate school (department), so please check with the School Affairs (Student Affairs) Section of the relevant graduate school.

For information on how to register for courses in faculties and graduate schools that do not use the Student Portal System, please contact the School Affairs (Student Affairs) Section of the relevant department or graduate school.

- * Please note that Student Portal System is not linked to Moodle system.
 - First registration period (first week of classes)
 Students will have about one week to register using the Student Portal System.
- 2 Second registration period (around the third week of classes) You will be given two or three days to confirm and correct your registration, and then you can register (and make corrections) using the Student Portal System.
- Third registration period (around the 4th week of classes) *This is the final confirmation period
 You will be given two or three days to confirm and correct your registration, and then you can register (and make corrections) at the School Affairs (Student Affairs) Section of the relevant department or graduate school.
 You can register for KIKAN Education courses (mainly for first-year undergraduates) at the Academic Affairs Section for KIKAN Education.
- During the final confirmation period, you will not be able to use the Student Portal System to register for courses.

Students must register during the registration period.

The registration period may vary depending on the academic year and semester. Please be sure to check the bulletin board, the Kyushu University website, or at the School Affairs (Student Affairs) Section.

4 Course registration cancellation system

If you decide that you would like to cancel your registration for a course, because you have found that the content of the lectures is different from what you expected, or that you did not have enough knowledge to follow the lectures, then you may request the cancellation of your course registration.

If you wish to cancel a course, please apply to the School Affairs (Student Affairs) Section of your department.

Courses from which you withdraw without submitting a request to cancel course registration will be included in the calculation of GPA*

Registration can only be canceled for elective (optional required) courses. You cannot apply to cancel registration for required or intensive courses. The period during which you can apply for cancellation will be announced separately on the bulletin board and website.

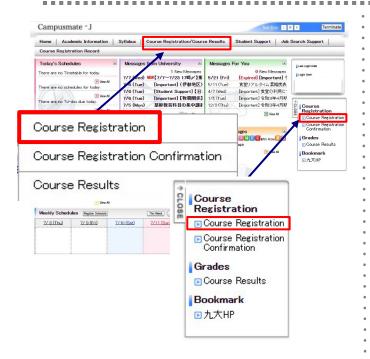

For graduate students, since the GPA system has not been introduced, there is no procedure for course registration cancellation.

*Please refer to the Kyushu University website for information on GPA.
TOP > Academics > Course Registration > Registration / Syllabuses > Grading Standards (GPA System)

Additionally, Kyushu University would like your family to be able to keep up with, and support, your academic career. We have therefore set up a system to enable them to check students' course results on the web each semester.
