

Announcement

Changes to the Entrance Examination Conducted for the 2026 Academic Year Onward (School of Engineering: Admission for October 2027 intake onward)

The School of Engineering hereby announces the following changes to the Entrance examination to be conducted from 2026.

— Details —

● International Undergraduate Program in Engineering (October intake)

- (1) From the academic year of 2027 onward, the name of the Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering Program will be changed as follows, and student recruitment for the Department of Aerospace Engineering will be discontinued.

【Current】

Course Name: Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering

Department Affiliation: Department of Mechanical Engineering / Department of Aerospace Engineering

【Academic Year 2027 Onwards】

Course Name: Mechanical Engineering

Department Affiliation: Department of Mechanical Engineering

- (2) From the academic year of 2027 onward, the minimum score of standardized tests required for applying to the Department of Applied Chemistry Engineering (Applied Chemistry) will be revised as follows. As a result, the application documents accepted will be altered

【Current】

- EJU: average score or higher
- SAT Reasoning Test: 710 or higher
- AP (Math and Chemistry): Not applicable
- ACT (Math): 31 points or higher
- GCE A level / IAL (Math-Chemistry): B-C or C-B or higher
- IB Mathematics (HL) and Chemistry (HL): 5 or higher

【2027 Academic Year Onward】

- EJU: Mathematics 120 points, Chemistry 60 points or higher
- SAT Reasoning Test: 740 or higher
- AP (Math and Chemistry): 4 or higher
- ACT (Math): 33 points or higher
- GCE A level / IAL (Math and Chemistry): Grade B or higher
- IB Mathematics (HL) and Chemistry (HL): 6 or higher